

GETTING TO SIX DEGREES FROM THE AIRPORT

Address:
Jalan Cikini Raya 60 B-C t: +62-21-314 1657

BUS

The cheapest way to get here from the airport is to take the public 'DAMRI' bus to 'GAMBIR' train station. Walk out of the arrivals hall and turn left, then keep walking until you see the bus shelter, you can buy your ticket at the Damri kiosk or on the bus for just Rp. 40,000. The last bus leaves around 23.30.

When you get off at Gambir station we are about 2km south so you can take a bajaj (tuk-tuk) or ojek (motorcycle taxi) or just a regular taxi – it's normally around Rp. 30,000 "tiga puluh ribu" (20,000 if you bargain hard!). Ask the driver to take you to "Jalan Cikini Raya" (it's pronounced chi-key-ni). We only have a small sign outside the front door so just look for 'Texas chicken' in a complex on the right hand side - we're the yellow door right next door to it.

GO TO "TEXAS CHICKEN". WE SHARE A WALL WITH THEM. STOP THERE!

TAXI

If you choose a taxi from the airport, make sure you find one of the better companies, and one of the the newer-looking taxis. Ignore the touts outside arrivals and walk to the real taxis in front. Good companies are Blue Bird, Express, Gamia, TaxiKu. For around $30 you can take a 'Silver Bird' taxi - the safest drivers in black Mercedes cars – just find the black 'Silver Bird' stand on the road.

The most important thing is that you insist that airport taxis use the meter ("will you use the meter?" = 'Pakai Argo?'). On top of the meter fee, you have to pay an airport 'surcharge' of Rp10,000, and you'll also have to cover the toll road fees - around Rp15,000 in total. The taxi takes 40 mins when roads are quiet, and 90+ mins during busy times! Expect to pay around 170.000 in total.
